

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 An eyeglass case includes a case body, a cover connected pivotally to the case body, and a clip. The cover has a surrounding wall extending downwardly from a top wall and formed with an inclined bottom surface that abuts against an inclined top surface of a surrounding wall of the case body. The clip is connected fixedly to an outer surface of the surrounding wall of the cover.